MENDING WALL

Something there is that doesn't love a wall,
That sends the frozen-ground-swell under it,
And spills the upper boulders in the sun;
And makes gaps even two can pass abreast.
The work of hunters is another thing:
I have come after them and made repair
Where they have left not one stone on stone,
But they would have the rabbit out of hiding,
To please the yelping dogs. The gaps I mean,
No one has seen them made or heard them made,
But at spring mending-time we find them there.
I let my neighbor know beyond the hill;
And on a day we meet to walk the line
And set the wall between us once again.
We keep the wall between us as we go.
To each the boulders that have fallen to each.
And some are loaves and some so nearly balls
We have to use a spell to make them balance:
"Stay where you are until our backs are turned!"
We wear our fingers rough with handling them.
Oh, just another kind of outdoor game,
One on a side. It comes to little more;
He is all pine and I am apple-orchard.
My apple trees will never get across
And eat the cones under his pines, I tell him.
He only says, "Good fences make good neighbors."
Spring is the mischief in me, and I wonder
If I could put a notion in his head:
"Why do they make good neighbors? Isn't it
Where there are cows? But here there are no cows?
Before I built a wall I'd ask to know
What I was walling in or walling out,
And to whom I was like to give offense.
Something there is that doesn't love a wall,
That wants it down!" I could say "Elves" to him,
But it's not elves exactly, and I'd rather
He said it for himself. I see him there,
Bringing a stone grasped firmly by the top
In each hand, like an old-stone savage armed.
He moves in darkness as it seems to me,
Not of woods only and the shade of trees.
He will not go behind his father's saying,
And he likes having thought of it so well
He says again, "Good fences make good neighbors."

Co-operative student effort decorates school for Christmas.

Walls exist everywhere in life, separating people one from another. These barriers are built by people who do not question or seek to learn. Lack of co-operation, understanding, and knowledge strengthen such walls. People may remove the separating walls in many ways. Education is one means by which people may break the boundaries of intolerance, misunderstanding, and ignorance.

"Oh, just another kind of outdoor game, One on a side."

18/12/23/81

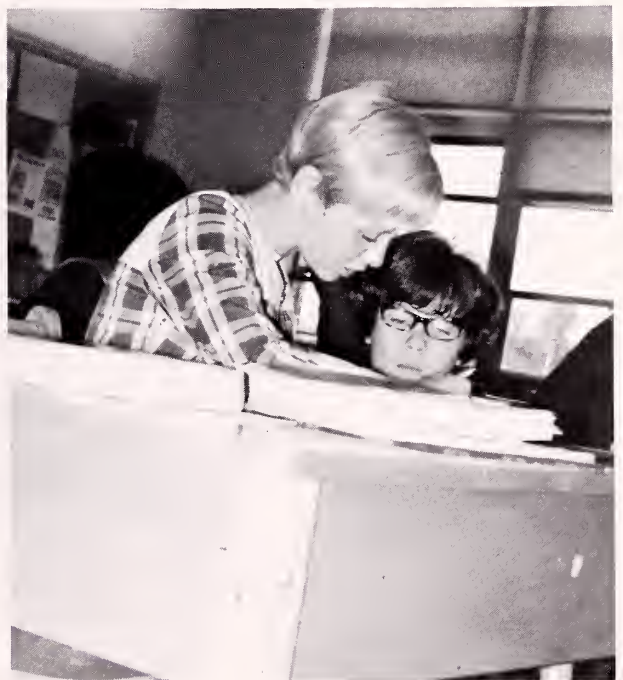

Lexington High School provides ample opportunity to remove barriers of ignorance. A continued emphasis upon broadening our curriculum in academic, business, vocational, and fine arts offerings is a mighty force in the attempt to appeal to the varying needs of all students. Students receive expert guidance and training to aid them in attaining their goals. In these ways Lexington High School helps its students break down and remove the walls separating and confining people.

Perhaps the barriers of life can best be removed through co-operation and understanding, integral parts of high school life. Learning requires understanding between students, faculty, and administration. However, the need for co-operation is not confined to the classroom. Lexington High School has endeavored to provide a well-rounded program of activities and athletics. The numerous clubs and sports promote the co-operation and participation necessary to penetrate the imprisoning walls of life.

Dear Sibby, Good luck in future years. Stay Great and Cute. See you this summer. Mary Becht

"Something there is that doesn't love a wall . . ." - Lexington High School provides an outstanding atmosphere of scholarship, friendship, participation, and co-operation whereby its students can tear away the constricting walls and approach life with enthusiasm and open minds.

DEDICATION

To one whose tireless efforts have contributed so much to our dances and other class projects; whose good-natured disposition has lifted our lagging spirits; and to one who has faithfully supported our athletic teams, we, the class of 1968, dedicate our CRYSTAL to Miss Mary Lou Williams.

Because of the united efforts of the students under the leadership of Mr. Frank Thompson, Lexington High School has completed a successful year. Our academic program was strengthened by the addition of new courses. Our athletic programs fared well, and even our building itself was improved by two new additions. Mr. Thompson understands the needs of Lexington High and, through his cooperation with the faculty and the students, this school will continue to progress.

After forty-eight years of service, twenty-five of them at Lexington High School, Miss Gertrude Morrison has retired. She has taught as well as guided many students, helping them to surmount the barriers of life. During the past few years, Miss Morrison has given up teaching to concentrate on her guidance duties which have increased considerably. Lexington High School will long remember her faithful service.

The Senior Class of 1967 has completed its high school career. We have prepared ourselves to face the world beyond Lexington High School. Some of us will enter jobs and some will go on to further education. Whatever the individuals of our class face in the future, their experiences at Lexington High School have given them the skills and insights to breach the barriers of ignorance, intolerance, and the needs of their futures.

The sweetheart of LHS

Fight! Fight!

A WALL''

"Yeah, Leo, we saw all those Hell's Angel movies, too."

Progress is our most important product.

Humor is an integral part of daily life. It makes instant friendships, it relieves difficult situations, it draws all its sharers closer together. Laughter breaks through the dense walls separating people. A life without laughter and happiness would not be life at all, but a mere existence.

School involves a great portion of a student's life. The habit of laughter and humor must be followed in school to break down any walls separating students. Humor doesn't love a wall.

“OH, JUST ANOTHER KIND OF OUTDOOR GAME”

“Uh-oh, I just welded my class ring to a screwdriver.”

“Hey, Harv, let’s take a work-break!”

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT COOPERATIVE

CLUB PRESIDENTS:

This year Lexington High School adopted a new form of student government, the Student Cooperative Association. The SCA broke the wall of isolation surrounding our old form of government. The SCA is designed to represent a government of the students, by the students, for the students that promotes harmony between the faculty and the student body, and to instill qualities of leadership in all its members. By holding numerous meetings between its member schools, and by including in its membership the entire student body, represented by club presidents and homeroom chairmen as well as class and student body officers, the SCA brings student government into contact with new ideas and more people.

ASSOCIATION

During the year the SCA sponsored a clean-up day, was responsible for raising and lowering the school flags, put up Christmas decorations around the school, and held several assemblies. Mr. Lindsay and Mrs. Wertz served as faculty advisors to the SCA and Phil Clayton guided the student body in its new government.

Upholding honor at L.H.S. is the major concern of the Honor Council. Students on the Honor Council are elected by their class. There are three seniors on the Honor Council, two juniors, and one student from each lower class. Mrs. West is now their faculty advisor. She guides the organization in its attempts to impress upon the student body the values of our Honor Code.

This year, for the first time, the members wrote a constitution for future use.

The Honor Council held its annual assembly toward the end of February.

Mrs. West became the advisor to the Honor Council in February when a re-organization and a re-emphasis of our Honor System took place.

Its members also acted as guides for various school functions and helped in the enlarged guidance room.

EIGHT SENIORS WIN ACADEMIC HONORS

SEATED: Robert Patrick, Dennis Buckland, George Fisher, Bucky Joyce. STANDING: David Peters, Winnie Barritt, Charles Bennetch.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation tests thousands of high school juniors each year. On the basis of scores, semifinalists are selected and Letters of Commendation are awarded. These honors give recognition to those students with unusual intellectual achievement and promise. This year Letters of Commendation were awarded to Winnie Barritt, Charles Bennetch, Bucky Joyce, Bob Patrick, and David Peters. George Fisher and Dennis Buckland were named semifinalists and took further tests in National Merit competition to determine whether they would become finalists.

Walter Blake, because of his academic achievement, was named a finalist in the National Achievement Scholarship Program sponsored by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

THE "CRYSTAL" TELLS THE LHS STORY 1967-68

The CRYSTAL had its biggest year in 1967-68. The magazine drive, under the direction of Mr. Potter was the most successful one ever held. The number of subscriptions sold (750) was the largest ever, and the book itself is larger by twenty pages. Coverage of the life of the entire school year has been the goal of the staff.

CRYSTAL Photographers: Bill Dunlap, Richard Drumm, Paul Whitehead, Skip Ravenhorst, Fred Roberts, Pat Williamson.

SCARLETTER

THE SCARLETTER, the LHS newspaper, was, for the first time, under the management of co-editors, Patsy Donald and Pat Thulean. Two major goals of the paper this year were to publish more issues and develop more up-to-date news coverage. Ten issues, with some special issues, were published. Miss Williams served as advisor.

In order to maintain high standards of reporting, THE SCARLETTER sends delegates to SIPA and to the Virginia High School Editor's Workshop in Richmond.

Unlike the other school publication, THE CRYSTAL, which uses the magazine drive and student subscriptions to meet its financial obligations, THE SCARLETTER depends mainly upon ads for its finances.

Regular features of the paper have included "Senior Spotlight", "New Faculty Faces", "New Students", the mystery writer, "El Rojo", and "Wait A Minute".

Co-editors: Pat Thulean and Patsy Donald.

J.V. CHEERLEADERS

Our school spirit has been exceptional this year, and this is largely due to the efforts of the cheerleaders. Their goal was accomplished by leading cheers at the games and by organizing pep rallies. In order to pay for the new J. V. uniforms, the cheerleaders held several dances during football season. The J. V. cheerleading provides preparation for cheering on the varsity squad.

J. V. Cheerleaders support Little Red.

The majorettes strengthen our school spirit by performing at football games and other school events. They also participated in the Glasgow, Buena Vista, and Lexington Christmas Parades. Our majorettes are part of the band. This year they bought new uniforms which compliment the appearance of the band.

LITERARY CLUB

Literary Club officers and advisor are Debbie Burgess, Mrs. Newman and Judy Hamm.

The purpose of the Literary Club is to encourage the reading of good literature. Through discussions and lectures based on the selections, the members gained an appreciation for, and a better understanding of the various types and purposes of good authors and lasting literature. Walls of misunderstanding can often be shattered through experiences with literature. Some selections read during the year were; Sunrise at Campobello, The Old Man and the Sea, and Cry, the Beloved Country.

"There where it is we do not need a wall."

When a person refuses to admit that barriers exist in life, or when he admits they exist and does nothing to remove them, he limits his understanding because he isolates himself behind walls, keeping out other people and new ideas. Man must continually attack the walls which, strengthened by intolerance, misunderstanding, and ignorance, confine him.

Education may enable men to confront and break these constricting walls. Lexington High School endeavors to give its students the skills necessary for attacking the wall of ignorance. Increased space, an excellent faculty, a vigorous athletic program, an expanded academic program, many vocational and business offerings, and an extensive extra-curricular program, all offer the student the chance to expand his horizons.
